

3rd Mongolia-Korea Workshop on Advanced Materials

3 AUGUST 2026, NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF MONGOLIA, ULAANBAATAR

4-6 AUGUST 2026, PREMIUM BOLOR RESORT, TEREJI

The 3rd Mongolia-Korea Workshop on Advanced Materials (MKAM 2026) will showcase leading-edge developments in materials science, with a special focus on nanostructured permanent magnets and two-dimensional (2D) magnetic materials. The workshop aims to bring together scientists, researchers, and students from Mongolia, Korea, and the international community to exchange ideas and discuss emerging trends in advanced materials research.

The scientific program will feature plenary lectures by renowned international experts, invited talks, tutorials, and research presentations highlighting recent breakthroughs in materials design, characterization, and applications. In addition, several satellite sessions organized by partner research groups will provide opportunities for focused discussions and collaboration.

MKAM 2026 will offer an excellent platform for scientific exchange, networking, and the development of new research partnerships. We warmly invite you to join us in Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia, for this exciting gathering of the international materials science community.

The Mongolia–Korea Workshop on Advanced Materials (MKAM) is a collaborative scientific event aimed at strengthening research partnerships between Mongolia, the Republic of Korea, and the broader international materials science community.

The previous workshops successfully brought together leading scientists, young researchers, and students to exchange ideas and present recent advances in materials science and related fields.

- MKAM 2024 – Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia
- MKAM 2025 – Busan, Republic of Korea

Building on the success of these earlier meetings, MKAM 2026 continues this tradition by providing a platform for scientific exchange, collaboration, and the development of new research partnerships in advanced materials.

MKAM-2024, Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia, Aug. 09-10, 2024
